DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed 5 July 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Because cited art clearly disclose the claimed subject matters, also encapsulated circuit which known in the art, and teaching is shown in the Wong's reference. Further Squibb in combination with Keith discloses claimed invention except for the utilization of the technique for encapsulate electronic circuit. It would have been obvious to one having an ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Squibb's power conversion circuit an encapsulated, since it has been held that the provision of adjustability, where needed, involves only routine skill in the art. In re Stevens, 101 USPQ 284 (CCPA 1954).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) The invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Art Unit: 2838

(e) The invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

2. Claims 8-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Wong et al. (U.S. patent # 6,775,164).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-7 and 14-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Squibb (U.S. Patent # 5,499,184) in combination with Keith (U.S. patent # 5,395,264).

Squibb discloses claimed invention an electronic power converter (figure 1-2), including at least high voltage electronic circuitry (figure 2), an inrush current limiting circuit (figure 2, item 58), a MOSFET switch (figure 2, item 32), a bridge rectifier (figure 2, item 24), a capacitor (figure 2, item 56), voltage detection circuit (figure 2, item 38), a resistive charging path (figure 2, item 58), an opt-coupler (figure 2, item 40), a secondary side isolated low voltage ON/OFF switch (figure 2, item 50 and column 5, line 50-55), a low voltage sense (column 5, line 40-50) and resistive connection to a housekeeping supply (figure 2, item 20). Squibb does not disclose the utilization of the technique for a detachable line cord. Keith teaches the utilization of the similar technique for a detachable line cord. It would have been obvious one having an ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made modify Squibb's power supply by utilizing the technique taught by Keith for the purpose of providing power supply that can be used with standard power supply.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
